There is already a UV and Filters installed underneath the master, I had this in stored during the refurbishment of the master bedroom

This system was designed to polish/treat water from RO Plant or water from the cistern underneath the master.<=div> At this time you maybe better off using the water from the cistern I would need to check water quality before this actually happened As stated the post treatment on the RO plant is not treating the water correctly therefore High PH I will inquire if there is any other form of Post Treatment=available for the Master Bedroom

The same system was installed for cabanas=1 and 2, I noticed this week Instead of=repairing as instructed the UV h=d totally been disconnected .

Lastly

New pumps have installed for distribution system, I agreed this needed to be done, but there should variable speed drives install to stop hammering the domestic and irrigation system I suspect a=lot of the irrigation leaks are caused by the sudden on off of these pumps&=bsp; And more importantly lower water level shut offs should be install to protect pumps if cistern get to low levels

I need to get my boots back on the ground again. Will discuss when you visit Zorro

Thank you
