Please pass along this message. My sister-in-law, Windsor's wife, is a =arcoma oncologist at Memorial Sloan Kettering. Windsor unofficially had =er review Jeffrey's MRI. Windsor is the doctor who saw Jeffrey with me. =e is a vascular surgeon.

Her recommendation was that it should be removed sooner than later. Once =ipomas reach a certain size, the risk of them turning into a =iposarcoma increases. I think Jeffry's lipoma is at that size now.

I didn't say this during our initial consultation because I didn't want =im to worry and also I thought he was going to have it removed right =way.

There is still only an extremely small chance that this could be a =iposarcoma but if it were me, I would have this lipoma removed in a =imely fashion.

Thank you,

Jess
