What is the goal?

1. If the goal is for a larger sleeping surface that is in the "E2 berthed position" most of the time, then the RH divan shou=d be removed.
2. With reference to the divan frame, we can spend the money and=time on the "Falcon 900 berthing divan" or perhaps work wi=h your existing divan and fabricate two or three composite boxes to equal =he 80" length of the divan to increase the width of the bed to your desired measurement. When the bed is stowed and bein= used as a divan, the three (or maybe even four)boxes / ottomans can be st=red in the hangar / aft baggage area/ in the cabin.

Just a thought...

Eric
