Hi Jeffrey,

I just spoke with Melissa Lazarov at Gagosian Galler=. She said the viewing went well this morning and the client's=representative (it sounds like it was his curator) thought the work was be=utiful and is headed back to Zurich now to confer with the client. Gagosian says the client wants to move quickly, so =hey expect to hear something shortly and they are optimistic (for what it&=8217;s worth) about the deal going through.

As a back-up, Gagosian has another interested buyer =ho may want to see the sculpture tomorrow at the warehouse. They wil= let me know if it is happening in the next few hours and I'll make =ure the conservator that we have been using is there to supervise the viewing.

I'll keep you posted as I hear more.

Best,

Heather
