Good day Brice

Library phone is back online.

Good day Brice

1. As per boss's instructions, I verify how the amps are plugged into the power conditioner. The amps powers on and off from the conditioner, I notice the EV's have a delay that's built into their amps but all amps are on the high current Audio filters outlets.

(Just a reminder this a setup nick built for the boss)

2. The volume control from the subs is functional for the boss's review.

3. The 3rd amp from the bottom wire traces back to the powered sub that is closest to the system. ( I believe the was another sub like the one by the weight machine which needs an amp but the powered sub do not.)

Suggestion:

I believe the gym needs to be reviewed there are components that are not serving a purpose.
