Jeffrey-the guy noted below comes highly recommended from our head of technology and head of biz dev. Unfortunately, he based in CA, but I suspect he'd work anywhere or might know someone in southern florida. He shld be able to talk specs and costs with you. Make sure to tell him that your interest is not in imax per se. While I'm told our in home prototype is great, it is a prototype and not "battle tested". Use imax's name and, in particular, brian bonnick's, our head of technology.

Brad, here is the name of the individual who worked with us on Seth's IPT theatre on west coast.

Cheers, Brian
