Subject: 9 East 71st street Updated =roposals

As per our discussion this morning, I have attached two updated =ersions of our proposal to reflect additional =ariations.

Please see the =ttached proposals, one with speaker replacements as well as an =mplifier replacement, and another with only the amplifier =eplacement.

The proposal that only changes the amplifier, should be viewed as a Band-Aid (in the main). You will have sound, but I'm not comfortable stating with confidence that it will last over the long run. In addition, should it fail within the warranty period I'm fairly certain it will receive heavy scrutiny (and manufacturers examination) as it's a very robust/reliable unit and doesn't have a high failure rate. It may, or may not fall under the umbrella of a warranty repair (we will always try to have items purchased from us covered, but it's not a sure thing).

Thanks,

Matthew Odell
