No= quite....We started looking into an "aviation" =olution with Flight Display Systems (see attached schematic) and you =identified that you would like a residential type =ystem.

Yo= mentioned that you liked the Bose system in your other aircraft and =his system may be an option.

I =ould like to go back to our quote (Revision 4) and have another look at =he Integra system and buy a refurbished frequency converter. When we =uoted this system we were going to have it work within the existing Mid =ontinent Controls CMS system.

Sh=uld I continue down that path or is there another manufacturer you =ould prefer we look into?

Fr=m an audio perspective, would you like for us t look at Alto =viation? These guys worked for Bose and developed a system while =t Bose for Aviation. Bose lost interest in aviation after the =ystem was developed and these engineers worked an agreement with Bose =o allow them to continue manufacturing and selling this =ystem.
