Larry,

Yes, the current balance due is reflected on the front cover page. However, it will increase a little as the work finished up and we receive the billings for the plating, etc.

Thanks,
Ray Kraber

Larry,

Thanks, funds have been received. I have attached a prelim with the funds on deposit reflected and current balance. Since the account currently does not have a line of credit established, we will need final payment at departure. There are a few remaining items that we are waiting for charges on, however this prelim will give you an idea of where we currently are. Please let us know if you have any questions.

If you choose to wire this amount and pay the remaining via credit card let me know. I can create another one page interim billing for you if you like.

Thanks,

Larry,
I do not have any confirmation from Savannah yet. Do you have any tracking info that I could pass along to them?
