Re: Ms. [REDACTED]'s Visa Application

Dear Sir or Madam:

I am writing this letter on behalf of Ms. [REDACTED], a communications and public relations professional of extraordinary ability.

My name is Ariane de Rothschild and I am President of the Executive Committee of the Edmond de Rothschild Holding SA. I also lead the Edmond de Rothschild Foundations, dedicated to arts and culture, health and research, environment, social entrepreneurship and intercultural dialogue.

I chair the Ariane de Rothschild Foundation, which sponsors the annual Ariane de Rothschild Art Prize, a contemporary art prize. The Ariane de Rothschild Fellows Program, in partnership with Columbia Business School, University of Cambridge and ESSEC, aims to develop a network of social entrepreneurs with an interest in fostering a culture of mutual respect and dialogue among Jewish and Muslim communities.

Edmond de Rothschild Foundations hosts a very important and very selective seminar for future philanthropists. Our Next Generation seminar is a unique event that brings together a small number of young and select participants from around the world. Hosted by Edmond de Rothschild, it takes place at an exclusive Rothschild family setting.

The aim of the seminar is to raise participants' awareness regarding the challenges and opportunities related to generational change. Key issues such as family governance, asset diversification, entrepreneurship and philanthropy are addressed by our Group's experts and renowned global leaders.

Participants have the opportunity to learn, share and brainstorm with their peers. In this privileged and protected environment, they naturally make new friends and network with potential business partners.

This year, our very selective seminar invitees included Ms. [REDACTED]. Ms. [REDACTED] came to our seminar as an already accomplished public relations, communications, and fundraising professional and I am confident that she left the seminar with many more skills. I am familiar with the high quality of work she did for the St. Petersburg Economic Forum, other similar organizations and charitable and philanthropic endeavors. And I know that the Economic Forum is relying on her outstanding abilities for this year's organization as well. I believe our Seminar made Ms. [REDACTED] more efficient and influential and I will watch her career closely.

The world needs more philanthropy and fundraising participants like Ms. [REDACTED]. Therefore, I support her professional visa application to the United States and I endorse her fully.

Sincerely yours,

Ariane de Rothschild
