Yo= have a colorful way of describing the interior that makes me =/span>J.<=:p>

I =m using the Citation photo that you liked as overall guidance. =or example, we will strip the veneer and recover the two handrails in =he cabin in the same (or color coordinating) material as the headliner = PSU's; this way it will "clean up" that dark line =hat runs fwd / aft by the headliner.

Am=I on target?

all of =he above, as the tables and wood work is currently bland and somewhat =ulgar, , the more cashemre we use the better even =he tables in the photos are too glaring and look more like a motor =oach, think mimimal and elegant. as you and i =iscussed the conference table is currelly hideous, and needs covers, to =atch what ever material we put on the back of the seats. also like in =he current a top to place on the crednza so people can sit on it, =ithout scrathcing, .

Good morning =effrey,

On the 25th you sent me three (3) photo's - presumably =hoto's you took while with Yves in Paris.

Attached is one of =hese photo's - a table with perimeter inlays and a tight grain, =ngled veneer insert. You did not provide any information other =han the photo. Is this for reference to the center conference =able? The sidewall tables? Just the =nlays?
