Greetings all, yesterday afternoon Peter drove prd to redhook as he was leav=ng they hit something on the bottom, i saw they had the motors up but when I=left lsj they were already going again. When I saw the people that travele= in prd they said they might have snagged on a rope. This morning after clo=e exam the propeller is banged up and the engine fin is broken. Im looking f=r a propeller to replace and will repor t if that will fix the problem and r=port back after testing.
