..i got the picture with the doo= you sent me.

i was thinking at t=e sundial and sun we want to paint. the platform of the su=dial is perfect circle and would look beter i think with the sun in the ce=ter. i know it looks a little funny with the black beam starting from nose=2C but it might look funny even the beam would start in the betwee= eyes like in the image with the sun you sent me at the begining because o= beam is too thick. beside the sun would not be centered..
&n=sp;i played a little in computer.., i was thinking if we dont draw the=nose..,but still looks funny. or if we dont draw the en=ire face..but doesnt look that good.

then i ro=ate the sun with the face a few degree, i put the black beam on top star=ing from the center, then if we paint the continuing of the beam on the =loor in opposite direction(last picture attached)..it seems it looks good.=the continuing line of the beam on the floor could be gray somehow like th= shadow of the beam on the floor.. so when you look from top you s=e that dark line in the middle beside we will have the shadow of the beam =n the floor..

what do you think about las= picture attached? the white circle around the sun is the place where we h=ve the rocks on the floor and where we can write the hours..
