I am sure Brice will bring this up in your meeting. If being used as spare not sure we should stock technology that changes every few months...

Please advise

Good day Rich,

Summary of the conversation:

I am not 100% certain on location for the switch, but was originally quote was for the manager's cottage, but it may be used in the new shed. When I talked with Brice, this morning, concerning the communications and data for the new shed. He stated 'he had it handle' by using the old runs that were there. There was not a direct mention of the switch being used in the discussion shed but he ask me if I ordered it when he was leaving. I reply in the negative by stating "I did not get the go ahead" then he said to send the quote to him as he was leaving.

Regards,
