This is a friend of mine that I mentioned you. I know him well (as well and his wife).

He is very sharp and super connected in Italy.

He is now thinking of running for Italian presidency in a few years.

As he is economist, he wants to get some background in government relationships.

This is a reason that he would like to spend a year at HKS starting September.

His is able to take a year off from his current post as a Managing Director at Mediobanca S.p.A.

He would like to spend a year as a fellow (or whatever other title is) working either for David G or Larry.

Could you please ask David if he could consider discussing it with him (I think that David would be much easier than Larry – also as Marco is economist that would like to go into politics, David might be a wiser choice). Marco will be in USA the second week in July and would like to meet David to discuss

Thank you!

Boris
