Hi Martin =nd Corina,

I have attached a pdf with what I =hink at this hour is the correctly stated proposition about =xistence/uniqueness. The proof is given. You will notice =hat the various inequalities, statements, etc are completely different =going in the other direction even!) from what I said in earlier emails. =nbsp;This is due to me making my canonical error and reversing a =rucial inequality.

Corina: Can you check the =rgument VERY CLOSELY as my probability for making a sophomoric mistake =n any given step is closing in on 55%; and as there are a number of =teps, the total probability for having screwed up is likely greater =han 90%.

Best =ishes,

Cliff
