Hi Tyler,
=div>

Thanks for the update. Attached is edited and best vers=on for Ntl. Geographic. Please use this version. It is now very well-flesh=d out.

Hi [REDACTED],

Harvard page an= Edge being pushed - Edge is already at bottom of second page and moving u=. We will see these on first page in next 30 days. I have quite a few links pointing her= but would like to add more... As soon as I hear back from Mr. Epstein on =ur status I will add the next layer. I'm also adding these to our domains =nd social accounts.

Nat G=o - We are aiming to have you set as a contributing author moving forward.=Your bio has been submitted and reviewed... article has been reviewed and =dited some (just added links and made a few tweaks). We need $ approval to=move forward but all is lined up.

</=iv>

Press - Same status as Nat Geo... I will go ahead and move this on= forward in good faith but we really need to know all is well with our out=tanding invoices. We usually charge in advance so this is an unusual circu=stance for us to be in.

P=positive Huff is bouncing up to first page as of last night from what I'm se=ing - lots of movement on things as we've pushed quite hard on them this p=riod.

We will try to leverage your=new bio on Nat Geo and other references to pitch sites like Huff, etc. Hav=ng those articles ready is a great idea. We will be able to use your artic=es on these sites to reinforce our reputation goals without having the cos= currently associated with acquiring links.

Sincerely,

Tyl=r Shears
