From what I could tell last week= it looks like the solos batteries are currently running at 85%. Not=too bad after 3+ years. It would be good to bring a tech in for a sy=tem audit. They also have the ability to hook this up to the Interne= so that someone from your team can remotely monitor the system or receive=alerts if needed.

Let me know if you need =nything else.

We can also call Peter Rosen from "ProSolar System" [REDACTED] on St. Thomas or someone from Solar systems can come out.</=iv>

I'll get more info...
