My swollen lip came back - it's huge

It can't be a cold sore even though it forms a sore after a couple days and s=res in my mouth. I truly believe it's an allergic reaction. My body feels i=chy and prickly all over.

The only thing I can currently remember I took each 3 times was diflucan. An= I take it rarely so I didn't take it in between. I took it last night very=late after being at school and woke up 5 hours later with a deformed lip an= the itchies!

(All else I ate before bed was my usual cereal and my usual yoghurts)
