Hi,

I am attaching my month end =ctober position. I have not yet reconciled it with JPM but I will do so=over the next week as soon as their positions are finished.

The net p/l was approximately -$371k at the end October. =AO Friday was a better day as I locked in part of the gain on the JPY opti=n as the USD rose when the treasury market sold off. The FOMC did no= make new statements to change criteria for what will slow their bond buyi=g, the treasury market was just overbought.

I appreciate the feedback on how I need to take my losses m=re quickly, it was very useful for me to hear. Another deficiency th=t I have is written communication...I'm working on that too.

I hope that you are well.
