Subject: Wolfram Technology Conference--call for submissions

Are you doing something groundbreaking, clever, or just plain useful with Wolfram technologies? Share it at the 2015 Wolfram Technology Conference this October in Champaign, Illinois.

The submission deadline for this year's conference talks is Friday, July 17.

Featured presentations will showcase the Wolfram Language and the thriving ecosystem growing around it, including Wolfram Programming Cloud, Mathematica, Wolfram|Alpha, and SystemModeler.

Submissions are encouraged in (but not limited to) the following areas:

- System modeling and simulation
- Computational finance
- Interactive media
- Cloud computing
- Data science
- The Internet of Things and connected devices
- Educational technology
- Visualization
- Signal and image processing
- High-performance computing
- Software development
- Social sciences
