Below are the =ttachments, which they've sent me.

Actually, I didn't expect housing to be so expensive.

So, for getting me there I need to make two visas, one of which I should start to apply now (its government setting out visa) and the second one is Schengen, right after it.

This one costs 100 $ (320,000 uzbek soums) and shengen visa application costs 110 euros.
and I should open a Visa card for going abroad, when 2 years ago we came to the embassy with dad, they let us to France because we opened visa card for dad. I asked in a bank, they said it is almost free, (5 bucks) but I should put 100 dollars there to open my account.

and additional costs for papers and documents (like those which uzbek people buy in banks to say that they have money on their accounts for embassy, yeah, that's crazy :) will add up some 50 bucks, so I would really ask you to send me these by western union, otherwise it will stop all the process.

A woman from NYFA sent to me and Ella Klein this:

"The Address of where you will be staying the 6 weeks in Paris is:

Adagio Montmartre
10 Place Charles Dullin, 75018 Paris, France

The cost will be $3,900 and does not include food.

We suggest students bring $250 per week you are staying with us for food etc...'

and I'm like woow, that's much pain in my boyish ass, but that also gives me a challenge to fully meet the expectations.

feels like I never felt myself so encouraged and motivated. even shaved my legs (for some good old tradition)

Also, I really thing about making some little clay God of Moving Ass from Uzbekistan to France and put the totem in a prominent place and make him sacrifices like baguette, creme brulee, bardo vine and cigars. But I don't have it here in Tashkent, so I will just dance for it.

avec soin,
