Hi Jeffrey-

Lots o= progress since last time.

The new device is a jewel. See images=below. The first will be on a huge billboard near SFO on route 101 and wil= be seen by 4 million people. We are launching our KickStarter event on Ap=il 6.

It has really come a long way.

Thanks for your s=pport!

David

Hi Joi and Jeffrey,

This is a =ice little box. It uses the Oculus optics and some of the APIs developed b= them. Field of view is about 90-110 degrees but the resolution is very ni=e. It is tied to the one Samsung device (a very nice phone). The first uni=s that will be coming out are developer units, though they should be avail=ble to anyone that wants to purchase it.

Of course our field of view is much larger and we will =ork with any 7 or 8 inch tablet for the first device. We are beginning to =ook at what it would take to support phones as well - a higher power lens =ill give us the same field of view we have now but work with a 5 inch phone. We also think we can do this with a single lens/eye which will simplify the design and lower the cost.
