As many of you know, Edge is in Napa next weekend running a Master =lass, with Philip Tetlock, who is teaching "A short course in =uper-forecasting" aided by such luminaries as Danny Kahneman and Robert =xelrod ("The Evolution of Cooperation") (See: =ttp://edge.org/edge-master-class-2015, user id: edge_access | password: =dgeaccess)

Separately, as we've done in the past, we plan to drive back to San =rancisco and host an early 6pm dinner - "The Edge San Francisco Science =inner" for the participants in the Master Class, and our friends, =olleagues, clients, fellow science Edgies in the Bay Area. These =inners are very casual. The food is inexpensive, the conversation =riceless. Lots of interesting scientists show up as do people of note =n the digital domain. You are invited to the Sunday dinner and we hope =ou can join us. (Restaurant details to come.)
