Dear Friends and Neighbors,

The City of Miami Beach is closely monitoring Hurricane Danny, the first named hurricane of the 2015 season and our hurricane preparedness plan is in place to make sure all is ready when a storm threatens or strikes.

At this time there are no alerts, watches or warnings issued to coastal South Florida, but as the Tropics heat up, now is the time to review our state of readiness, as a City and as individuals.

It is important to remember that the entire City is situated within an evacuation zone. That means, if an evacuation order is given by Miami-Dade County for "Zone B" we will have to evacuate.

Take the time to have a personal plan for you, your family and even your pets. Make sure that you or your loved ones are pre-registered if necessary with the Miami-Dade county special needs registry. This registry identifies those individuals who are electrically dependent, non-ambulatory or have special needs that require evacuation assistance. You can obtain more information by calling 3-1-1.

If you have water vessels, make sure to plan for safe storage and make prior arrangements to relocate it before a Hurricane Watch is issued.
