I was very sad yesterday and crying with no reason...
So i decided to stop the accutane treatment, anyway I only had one week to take before stopping. I realised it started to affect me lately, having low confidence (worse then ever) or feeling sad with no reason ( or small stupid reason like the one that i forgot to iron my shirt for the next day :)) ) hehehhe, so I hope all will be good from now on.
I didn't want to complain, I kept it inside and I realise I have to do something about it.
So i hope the sun and the bf will help a lot this weekend :)
How are you?
kisses
